

One Green seat for Weymouth council

... but Labour leader loses his place

by Trevor Bevins

WEYMOUTH and Portland remains in minority Conservative control after a third of the borough council seats went to the polls.

The Green Party won its first seat with GP Jon Orrell taking the Weymouth East ward, with 55.3 per cent of the vote.

Elsewhere Labour group leader Mike Byatt was ousted in Westham East, losing his seat to the Liberal Democrat Sally Maslin by less than a dozen votes. He decided not to talk to the media after the defeat.

No party is in overall control of the council, with the Conservatives as the largest group with 14 seats.

Labour has 12 seats, the Liberal Democrats six, two independents, and one UKIP councillor.

Dr Orrell said it was "a big step forward" for the Green Party in Dorset with his win in Weymouth East and added that he hoped he could make a difference in the borough.

The Liberal Democrats had previously held the seat and had decided not to defend it.

Dr Orrell, who sits on the Melcombe Regis Regeneration Board, won twice as many votes as the Conservative candidate in second place and five times the number of Labour.

"We've been building up slowly over the past five years and, finally, we in the Green Party have broken through," said Dr Orrell. "We got more votes in Weymouth East than all the other candidates combined...it proves if you want a Green you can vote and get one."

He said he would be tackling poor quality housing which, in turn, can lead to health problems, reflected by statis-

Turnout in the borough's local election was 34.8%, with 14,179 votes cast.

Labour councillor Colin Huckle speaking on behalf of the Labour group, said defending eight seats was always going to be "a big ask."

"I think people very much expected we would lose more than one seat."

Former MP Ian Bruce saw the biggest turn out of the night in his Preston ward, at 47 per cent, with VALERIE Jepps lives in Beaminster with her husband Chris after they moved there in 2007.

She grew up in a small lochside village in Scotland where her dad was a local scout master so she had lots of 'big brothers' and eventually a younger sister.

After school she attended a teacher training college in Glasgow and graduated as a primary school teacher in 1970. She met her husband whilst working as a barmaid while he was in the Royal Navy and they married in 1972.

They moved to Hampshire in 1972 where Valerie taught in a local primary school. When Chris was drafted into the submarine service they returned to Scotland where she taught for the next 20 years.

Although they do not have children they have nieces, nephews and godchildren and have always been involved with their activities. When Chris left the Navy in 1985 he went to Glasgow University and also became a teacher.

● ARE you a member of any local organisations?

I have always loved music and dancing. Also I love live performances, the theatre, concerts, etc. I love singing with Raucous Chorus and until recently was a member of the Beaminster Gallery Quire. I am a keen member of the WI, I was treasurer of the Beaminster branch for six years.

● WHAT is your favourite show?

I have been lucky enough to have seen "Cats" in Edinburgh, "The Phantom" on Broadway, "Carmen" in Verona and Cliff in Cardiff amongst many musical treats, but the best ever was watching my 17-year-old godson, Jamie, playing Danny in "Grease". That was a school production but he will graduate from The Royal Scottish Conservatoire this July. Proud or what? I love DT8 too, and karaoke!

● WHAT do you like to do in your spare time?

We love to travel; I particularly enjoy cruises.

We have been involved with the Beaminster Twinning Association for many years and I am currently its chairman. We have a wide circle of friends both locally and in Scotland and enjoy an active social life. I would have loved to have been a party planner!

● WHAT is your favourite event within the

groups you are a part of?

One of the groups within Beaminster WI is the drama group. A few years ago we produced a Christmas entertainment in which I appeared as Santa's ostler (I do have a working knowledge of 'ostleries!'). I dressed in my father's kilt complete with very ornate sporran and wore a bonnet with ginger hair attached... oh, and pink Doc Martin boots. "Jock" has made several appearances at Burns suppers since! Another time we put on an Olde Thyme Music Hall, which was great fun.

I think my favourite part of the twinning is when our hosts in St James invite all their family to meet us and three generations share a three hour lunch with lots of "Franglais" conversation.

I also enjoy our fundraisers here in Beaminster especially the barbeques in the sunshine! Raucous Chorus is a real tonic and I love my weekly fix, joining like-minded singers for a couple of hours of fun. Some of us continue the evening at the Fleet Club when impromptu raucousness often occurs!

● WHAT is your favourite thing about living in Beaminster?

The beauty of living in Beaminster is many faceted. The town is surrounded by fabulous Dorset scenery and is served well by quality local shops, restaurants, pubs and cafes.

Beaminster Festival, the Monthly Moviola, the Jazz Nights and the many clubs and societies all add to the richness of life in Beaminster. But, for me, it is the friendly Beaminster residents who make our town so special.

Forced way into home

DETECTIVES in Weymouth are appealing for witnesses after two men forced their way into a home and assaulted and robbed a 53-year-old man.

They stole cash, a mobile phone and tobacco. The incident happened at around 7.10pm on Friday, April 29th off King Street.

One of the men was around five feet ten inches tall and of a heavy build. He had short black hair in a possible side parting. He was clean shaven and spoke with a local accent.

The second offender is described as around five feet eleven inches tall, of slim build, with black medium-length hair and had a plain black scarf covering his mouth and nose.

Both offenders are described as white and aged in their mid-30s. Both were wearing dark clothing.

Detective Constable Siobhan Lovering, of Weymouth CID, said: "The offenders stole a large Smirnoff bottle that contained cash, so it is possible the men may have been seen carrying this."

"I am appealing to anyone who saw anything suspicious in the area at the time of the incident to contact me."

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101 quoting incident number 29:336.

Baby dies on holiday

THE Dorset Coroner has been notified of the death of a seven-week old baby at a Weymouth holiday park.

The death of the child, who was on holiday with its family from Surrey, is not being treated as suspicious.

Tools stolen from van

POLICE investigating a theft from a van in Weymouth are appealing for witnesses and reminding people not to leave items in their vehicles overnight.

The Ford Transit was broken into sometime between 8pm on Tuesday, April 26th and 8.30am on Wednesday 27th when the van parked overnight in Rowan Close. Tools were taken – some of them later recovered from a nearby alleyway.

Police Constable William Taylor, of Weymouth police, said: "I am appealing to anyone who saw or heard anything suspicious in the area between the relevant times to please call me on 101."

Road closure

ONE of Weymouth's 'short-cuts' has been closed to traffic until June 3rd.

A 200-metre section of Radipole Lane will be closed from the junction of Causeway to the Radipole Lane/Spa Road junction to allow the re-thatching of Letterbox Cottage which is on the tight bend close to the river bridge.

A diversion will be in place for motorists via Dorchester Road, Weymouth Way and Field Barn Drive will be signed.

THE summer must be here! Weymouth's main beach is again being patrolled by RNLI lifeguards.

But would-be swimmers who chose to take a dip between the distinctive red and yellow flags could be in for a shock with water temperatures unlikely to be much above 10C.

The lifeguards will be on the beach daily between 10am and 6pm mainly between the King's Statue and the Town Clock. The safe swimming zone is between the two red and yellow flags on the beach, perpendicular to the beach line out to a distance of 200m and within any associated laid marker buoys.

When the flagged zone is in force no water craft, including pedaloes, paddle boards and inflatable kayaks are allowed within the zone except to carry out RNLI patrols or rescues.

The RNLI Lifeguards will patrol the zone and escort any craft clear.

Come and have a go at Castle Cove sailing

LOCAL people are being invited to 'push the boat' out at a come and try it event at Castle Cove Sailing Club this Saturday, May 14th.

The members-owned and members-run club, on the shores of Portland Harbour, off Old Castle Road, provided a home for many Olympic sailors and has some national team-standard members of its own – but club officials are keen to attract beginners as well as expert sailors.

As part of a national initiative, Castle Cove Sailing Club is holding an Open Day this Saturday from 11am to 4pm for those who want to find out about sailing. There will be an opportunity for a free trial sail, weather permitting.

Club Commodore Steve Green is keen to get rid of the myth that sailing is only for those who are well-off.

"The wind and water are free and some boat owners need crew to help sail their boats. If you want to do your own thing, a small boat can cost from a few hundred pounds. With over 130 organised sailing events every year with safety boats in attendance, and 30 social and training events, there is something for everyone. Our members range from families who just want to be on the water to world champion racers, and everyone in-between."

Mr Green says the aim of the club is to have fun, improve fitness and flexibility, develop your team-work and strategic thinking, and make friends for a lot less than the cost of a gym or satellite tv subscription.

"Costs are kept down by everyone helping out, making CCSC a particularly friendly club. If you can't make the day, go along another time to see what it's all about. Find out more at www.ccsc.org.uk or visit their Facebook page."

Rest easy, there are always volunteers

An open letter to Oliver Letwin MP

■ HOW comfortable it must be to sit in a world of benign self-satisfaction and well-being and talk about hard-working volunteers breathing life back into old landmarks, a nice, feel-good moment of people doing things for the benefit of the community.

It's just as well there are so many volunteers around because, mostly, they are having to pick up the slack in society that you and your cabinet colleagues are creating. While you preside over a flawed and unnecessary 'austerity' programme, your constituents and those in the rest of Dorset are suffering the effects of your cut-backs; benefits, education, children's services, just to name three that you know are going through difficult times. Organisations and residents are having to dig deeper into their own reserves to help plug the gap in services that you are leaving increasingly underfunded.

You know perfectly well that Dorset has been the lowest funded County in the country, bar one, for years which is based on a grossly unfair formula and you have achieved absolutely nothing in redressing the balance for us. There is no fat left to cut – services that are not statutory are having to be sacrificed or are being cut to the bone. You've done your best to diminish the value of Local Authorities, you continue to espouse the privatisation of the NHS and the enforced roll-out of the Academies programme. Advisors in the education department, professional, skilled and accountable who do know what education and teaching is about, will not be available locally to advise and guide schools and teachers.

But that's OK Oliver – there'll be plenty of volunteers clamouring at the school gates, running the bus services, helping out children's services, fund-raising, looking after the food banks so that you can rest easy with your rose-tinted beneficence intact and your conscience unassailed by the realities of life that the rest of us have to deal with. That isn't what you were elected as MP for, is it...?

CHRIS TURNER,

A way to improve the bus pass system?

■ WE have seen and heard much recently about the national bus pass scheme which for some years has allowed people to travel free on buses. This is a fantastic scheme which has enabled sections of society to travel when perhaps they would not have done so or been able to. The scheme has been administered by the local authority on behalf of the Government so that it can be used nationally. As we are now going through a period of austerity in many local authority and national government areas surely it is time to review this bus pass system. If the bus pass system were to be organised in a similar way to the Railcard system it would still bring the benefits of subsidised travel to many sectors of society without burdening local authority or central government departments.

I would like to suggest that the bus pass system remains in use but is administered slightly differently as follows in order to achieve these savings in finance and manpower resources.

At the present time the system is administered by personnel within the local authority where these labour costs are absorbed into the general administration of that authority. If, however, a small number of personnel were employed purely to administer the bus pass system their costs could be met by revenue received from participants purchasing the passes. This would then mean that the staff who, at the moment, administer the system within the local authority could be utilised for other aspects to benefit the community.

The initial pass could be purchased for a token fee (perhaps £10 or £15 annually) and this would allow holders to travel at reduced cost (perhaps half fares).

The advantages of this modified system would be that pass holders will still get reduced travel, the bus companies would get well deserved revenue with a possible increase in passenger number as people will still wish to travel by bus.

If this system was applied I feel sure it would firstly be a money saver for the local authority, allow people to travel at a reduced fee and encourage bus companies, particularly in rural areas, to prosper and provide better services for our communities.

DOUGLAS BEAZER,
Beaminster

Thanks for voting for 'greater democracy'

THANK you to literally hundreds of people who have stepped up as individuals to support and work for Public First in the cause of greater democracy in West Dorset – people from right across the political spectrum. And the tens of thousands of people who voted...

The 65 per cent vote for change to the 'Committee' system clearly exceeded our expectations – a winning margin of almost 2 to 1.

It's an exciting result because it gives everyone – hopefully including some younger people – the knowledge that they really can change things through the ballot box.

It is regrettable that the council required us to go to a referendum in order to get the change... £95,000 had to be spent to nail this issue.

Last autumn we kept hinting that we had well over the required number of petition signatures and that two years ago Canterbury City Council – seeing the public's petition signatures mounting – had themselves agreed to convert to 'Committee' voluntarily, so the Canterbury petition never had to be presented, avoiding the costs of the petition and the referendum.

We did try to meet with the council in November before presenting our petition, but they declined the offer.

This process however has enabled the whole district to learn more about the alternative systems, and we discovered that as people understood the differences better that they mainly opted for the more proportional and democratic 'Committee' system.

The publication by the Council's own internal auditors of the draft report – 'Charles Street Review' which has a link from our website www.publicfirstgroup.co.uk – confirmed much of what we had been saying.

It concluded there was a 'lack of transparency'; 'consultation felt more like a tick-box exercise rather than a willingness to genuinely take on board opinions and incorporate these'; and 'decisions appeared to 'arrive' rather than through discussion and consultation'; etc...

I have written to the then leader to invite him to discuss these points publicly as these issues need focus and judgement on if we are all to move ahead together.

Thank you again to all. The tide will surely continue to turn in favour of greater democracy.

■ AND THEY'RE OFF: The start of the 10k fun run which Matt Papa - number 88 - went on to win

By Trevor Bevins

It was almost too much sun for those taking part in Sunday's Dorchester Lions fun run.

Around 200 lined up at the town's Middle School for the 2k and 10k races – both started by Mayor Robin Potter who went on to run the 2k event.

There for her 32nd year was Sister Augustine who returns to the county town, where she was once based, to take part in the event and, as she puts it, "raise a little money for good causes."

Now in Cornwall the £1,000-plus she has been pledged will be split between the Dorchester Poverty Action group and Cornwall Hospice Care.

"I love to come back and take part and say hello to a few people. I still miss Dorchester," said the running nun or, as he now admits, mostly walking.

Few came in fancy dress this year with Eve Gilmour, 11, taking the top prize for her Olympic torch.

For many the event is the chance to raise some money for good causes. The Weymouth and Dorchester branch of Parkinson's UK boasted a team of ten, many of which walked the 2k course, amongst them Hilary Morley in her 70s and daughter Alison Demir.

But for many the 10k is a serious event with local running clubs Egdon Heath, Maiden Newton, Weymouth St Paul's and Portland well represented.

Matt Papa, aged 17, from the local Bustinskin triathlon club romped home in the 10k and confessed: "It was hot out there. I was desperate for the water station by the time we got to it."

First lady home in the distance was Helen Southcott from Maiden Newton Runners who finished in 44 minutes 32 seconds, giving her legs a stretch after the London Marathon which she completed in 3 hours 12 minutes.

In the 2km race it was a question of 'home turf' for Daniel Bishop (13), who had a good lead on his rivals as he sprinted into the finish on the playing field where he attends school. First female runner home was Marnie Worthington, also 13.

For Judy Rich, who lives nearby, there was the surprise of being awarded first lady over 60.

"Mine you, I don't think there are many over 60 mad enough to enter," she said, admitting to having been 'dragged round' by grand-daughter Jazzy.

Dorchester Lions declared themselves delighted with the event: "It's been a really good turnout," said President Derek Buswell; "We get great support from the local community."

The event has raised more than £200,000 for local good causes since it started.

Abbeyfield takes part in national study

RESIDENTS in Dorchester's Abbeyfield home are taking part in a national study to discover the effects of volunteering on them.

The Big Lottery project has set aside £265,000 for the Abbeyfield Society to run the project.

The aim of the project is to increase volunteering activity in those over 75 and, working in conjunction with the Institute of Volunteering Research, Abbeyfield will measure the impact this volunteering has on the well-being and quality of life of those who participate.

Other Dorset Abbeyfield homes at Beaminster, Swanage and Sherborne are also participating.

Advice via video link

A VIDEO link is now being used every Wednesday morning from Crossways Library to a Citizens Advice Bureau adviser.

The session can offer help with benefits, housing, debt, employment and relationships. Appointment for the sessions, which are confidential, can be made through Dorchester CAB (01305 751514).

Players 10th anniversary

THE New Thomas Hardy Players are planning to celebrate their 10th anniversary later this month with a party.

The bring and share event will be taking place at Max Gate during the last week in May.

During the evening members will be presenting cheques to their chosen charities, planting flowers in memory of Norrie Woodhall who acted in both the original Hardy Players when she was spotted by Thomas Hardy, and the New Hardy Players and cutting a celebration cake.

Players and supporters, past and present, who may not have been contacted by the group are asked to get in touch with Jill Withey - jill.withey2@btinternet.com or phone her on 01305 853611.

Residents' art on show for mayor

HARPIST Florence Aspley entertains residents and visitors at Castle View's art

WORKS of art by care home residents have gone on show for the first time at an exhibition attended by the Mayor and Mayoress of Dorchester.

Councillor Robin and Mrs Val Potter were guests of honour at Colten Care's Castle View in Poundbury along with the Curator of Fine Arts at Dorset County Museum, David James.

The visitors spoke with members of the home's in-house art club, which includes residents and friends in the community, while viewing paintings hung specially for the evening event.

Dena Bulman, Castle View's Activities Organiser, said: "These beautiful works have involved dedication, creative skills, imagination and vibrant individual flair. They were highly praised by our guests on the night."

During the exhibition, team member Florence Aspley played live classical harp. Florence, who has a role as a care assistant or 'Colten Companion' comes from a musical family. Her mother is a professional flautist and her grandfather, a composer wrote the theme music for the popular 1960s TV show, The Saint.

Dena added: "The wonderful music from Florence was the perfect backdrop for what was a lovely evening for all involved."

■ Students Scale
Sequoiadendron
Giganteum

KINGSTON Maurward students have been proving they have a head for heights.

The college's Level 3 Arboriculture students have attempted to scale the dizzying heights of the 35 metre Sequoiadendron Giganteum tree.

The tree - thought to be nearly 130-years-old - on the estate's sports field, was climbed by the specialist students using skills honed during their course to get an accurate measurement as part of their tree survey training.

Using various estimating techniques prior to the climb the estimated height makes it the 11th tallest tree in the UK and the climb was designed to verify it.

Part of the conifer family, the species originates from Californian forests and fares surprisingly well in the UK - in fact actively thrives despite the challenging climate - and could live up to a 1,000-years-old.

The genus was introduced to the UK in the 18th century and planted on large estates such as Kingston Maurward as a status symbol. It is thought that there were originally two or four of the trees planted in the grounds but this is the only one to have prospered.

Students used various techniques in their bid to get to the top of the tree and faced several challenges, not only as it rained throughout the attempt so they had to be more aware of health and safety issues, but the branches - with their unique spongy bark - grow downwards rather than up, presenting further complications. As conditions further deteriorated during the day the climb was halted mid-afternoon.

Student MJ said: "Climbing this tree was great fun but things are never as simple as they seem - due to its size the tree has not been maintained over the years, and with the branches growing downwards it's more of a challenge. It did give us an opportunity to improve our climbing and tree-reading techniques, which is invaluable to help us understand trees both above and below the ground."

Arboriculture tutor Roland Hughes said: "This is an excellent practice climb for the students - It will stand them in excellent stead for the future if they are asked to tackle trees that grow this way - plus, it will probably be the tallest tree they'll ever climb!"

Midnight walk returns for 10th year

LADIES are being urged to sign up for Weldmar's annual Midnight Walk.

The female-only event will take place on Saturday, July 16th on Weymouth seafront, and is this year celebrating its 10th year.

Walkers have three distances to choose from: five miles, 6.5 miles or the new and improved 10 mile route, which this year will see walkers taking on the quayside and harbour.

Anyone over the age of 14 is invited to take part and help raise money for Weldmar's vital services.

Matt Smith, Midnight Walk's Event Manager said: "The Midnight Walk is a staple event in the Weldmar calendar, and within the beautiful seaside town. It is hard to believe that we are celebrating ten years of the walk this year but we are pulling out all the stops to make sure it is a fantastic event for everyone who walks or volunteers."

From the 2015 feedback forms, 100 per cent of Midnight Walkers said they would take part again, said they enjoyed the event and agreed that the event was good value for money.

Registration includes entry to the Midnight Walk, an official event t-shirt, flashing bunny ears, refreshments during and after the walk, a medal, goodies and an evening of entertainment.

Matt said "The registration fee covers the cost of administering your place and the goodies you receive so we encourage all our walkers to try and raise sponsorship for the hospice in return. However, it doesn't have to just be physical sponsorship on forms - supporters can hold cake sales, car boots, bucket collections and lots more to help boost their fundraising for this vital service."

Weldmar Hospicecare Trust cares for patients with cancer and other progressive conditions, such as motor neurone disease, who require specialist help.

If you would like to register as a walker or volunteer (men are welcome to volunteer), please phone 01305 261800 or visit www.weld-hospice.org.uk/midnightwalk

Former Navy officer to tackle cycle challenge for blind veterans' charity

A FORMER Royal Navy Petty Officer from Weymouth will be taking on the Prudential RideLondon - Surrey 100 this July.

He will be riding for Blind Veterans UK, the national charity for vision-impaired ex-Service men and women.

Don Philpott, 59, served in the Navy for 22 years and first came across Blind Veterans UK early in his career after he assisted blind veterans during a weeks respite at HMS Daedalus in 1977. He was so impressed by them and the charity that nearly 40 years on he is taking on the cycling challenge for Blind Veterans UK and so far has already raised more than £1,500.

Don joined the Navy in 1975 where he became part of the Fleet Air Arm. He trained as a Weapons/Electrical Technician. Stationed at the Royal Naval Air Stations in Portland and Yeovilton, serving on several ships including HMS Diomedes, Achilles, Hermes and York, working on a variety of helicopters such as the Wessex, Wasp and Lynx.

In 1977 Don was selected for the Fleet Air Arm Field Gun Crew. On their return back from Earls Court the crew were asked if they would like to help the blind veterans at HMS Daedalus in Lee-On-Solent. It was there Don first met veterans supported by Blind Veterans UK, formerly St Dunstan's. Veterans would visit for a week's respite and try various activities.

Don said: "We did all sorts of things with the blind veterans such as sports and swimming gala trips. There were a few who played darts and bowls, even though they had no hands. It was a humbling experience and I realised what a good cause Blind Veterans UK is."

Don assisted the veterans again in 1980 and 1984. Nowadays, veterans visit HMS Sultan rather than HMS Daedalus for a week's respite where ex-field gunners and volunteers look after them.

Don said: "The veterans never once complained about their situation. The people have changed over the years but Blind Veterans UK still cares for our blind and vision-impaired ex-Service personnel."

This will be the first time Don will tackle the 100 mile course of the Prudential RideLondon - Surrey 100.

■ DON Philpott from Weymouth will be riding the Prudential RideLondon - Surrey 100

By Trevor Bevens

"I'm very much looking forward to it. A few friends have done the ride previously and their enthusiasm spurred me on to sign up," said Don.

"It will be a great challenge to ride the London Olympic 2012 road race route but I'm aiming to complete it in under six hours."

To support Don as he takes on RideLondon for Blind Veterans UK, visit justgiving.com/don-philpott.

A great place to observe comings and goings of Dorset's birds

PORTLAND has its own version of an international arrivals "lounge" this time of year - with birds flying into the country from distant lands.

And in the thick of it is a redundant lighthouse now put to use as the Portland Bird Observatory.

Here you will find human visitors too - many of them coming from far flung parts of the country, kitted out with powerful binoculars, spotting scopes and some very expensive cameras and lenses.

Talk is of the latest arrivals and where they can be seen - mixed in with cups of tea and the inevitable "bird envy" discussions about who has seen what and who might have the biggest tally of the day, week, month or year.

For many of these visitors the lighthouse provides accommodation, cheaper than you are likely to find almost anywhere else locally, comfortable, but also fairly basic.

Bird spotters tend not to be big on lie-ins and most will be up before dawn to greet the early arrivals from overseas.

In fact one of the surprises for me, when I visited with a group from the Dorchester University of the Third Age, was that the majority of bird migrants fly and arrive by night. A glance at the Bird Observatory log quickly shows that flocks are often heard and not seen.

The Observatory was bought by the family of the late well-known and much loved Dorset naturalist, Helen Brotherton, and is run as an independent organisation and a UK registered charity, catering, not just for birders but for naturalists of all persuasions.

Single-handedly, and without fuss, it brings in hundreds of human visitors each year to help boost Portland's economy, although many of the day visitors are Dorset residents.

TREVOR BEVENS met with members of the Dorchester University of the Third Age at Portland's Bird Observatory. Here he shares some of his findings.

■ A WILLOW Warbler, captured in nets, checked and released

Being at the southerly tip of the county the area around Portland Bill has long been a popular spot to study bird migration, with many pioneering ornithologists visiting over the years.

Most of the birds are on well-known flight paths, stopping briefly in Dorset before winging their way elsewhere - but a few, the ones which cause the excitement, are basically those which either by a fault of navigation, or strong winds, are simply lost and never intended to visit Dorset in the first place.

On the day I was at the Observatory there was much talk of a Hoopoe which had been seen for a couple of days in the area. These colourful birds, with distinctive bright colouring and black and white wing markings are common enough on the continent, but infrequent visitors to the UK.

This one was probably on its way from Africa to spend the summer in continental Europe when, most likely, got blown off course.

Observatory warden Martin Cade explained to our group that it would be gone again - back on the course it should have been.

Part of the work of the Observatory is catching birds in delicate netting and checking the tiny rings many carry to work out where they came from - part of global migration studies.

Our visit included the chance to see up-close a tiny Willow Warbler and a Chiff Chaff which were duly recorded and released from Martin's gently hands none the worse for the brief spell in captivity. It is amazing that these tiny creatures, weighing just a few grammes, can have the energy and will to fly so far, all the way from Africa.

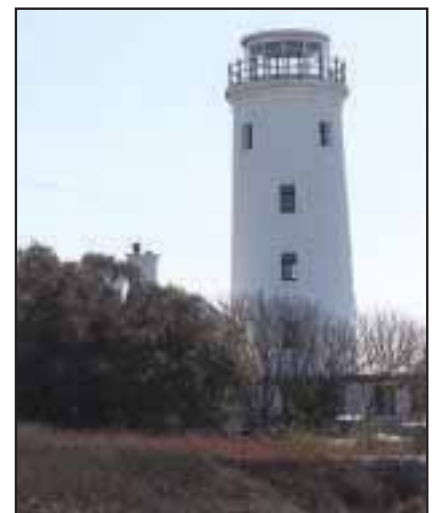

Our group spotted little else during the visit - chaffinches and bullfinches, and witnessed seagulls and a crow 'mobbing' a Buzzard high in the sky, before walking some of the paths nearby and spotting a Little Owl which nests close to the Observatory.

In recent days significant numbers of Wheatear and Blackcap have been logged with Reed and Garden Warblers also amongst the arrivals - while Swallows have been recorded passing by at the rate of 300 an hour.

Nearby, off the Chesil, the first Roseate Terns of the year arrived along with seven Great Northern Divers and a solitary Arctic Skua.

The Observatory building itself has been in use since March 1961 and was opened by Sir Peter Scott. Apart from living accommodation it also has an extensive library, a bookshop selling naturalists publications of all kinds and houses records of bird sightings going back decades.

Membership for a family is just £20 a year and £5 for those under 18, or students under 21.

Fat Leaf

FAT LEAF is well known nationwide for their excellent quality wooden planters and outdoor furniture, but they have also been making a name for themselves in the world of landscaping.

Fat Leaf has taken on lots of landscaping projects over the years but the recent merger with Country Gardens of Bridport has meant that they can now take on much more landscaping work, locally and further afield.

A dedicated team of landscapers now operates under the Fat Leaf umbrella, with stone masons, carpenters, furniture designers and builder's all collaborating together to design and build unique outdoor spaces.

Recent commercial projects in London have been an overwhelming success for the business and pushed them further in terms of their design and functionality and even seen one of their Beer Gardens in Time Out's "Best London Beer Gardens" feature last summer.

Fat Leaf have collaborated with other local businesses including Townsend Engineering and Eypedown Sawmill to create bespoke wood & steel furniture and outdoor structures. These collaborations have opened lots of doors and the projects coming in are getting more and more adventurous.

Ross Clarke from Fat Leaf said, "It's great that our London work has been so well received, but we want to bring some of that design flair to Dorset, we are keen to showcase some of our designs in a more domestic setting and build a strong landscaping reputation locally as well as in London."

Ashley Cooper Turf and Transport

AN exciting new product for us at Ashley Cooper Turf & Transport - Meadow Mats!

Since WW2, 98% of the UK's wildflower meadows have been lost; which is such a shame, as these species-rich areas were also a source of food and shelter for countless insects; butterflies and bees to name two, as well as birds and others that contribute to the food chain. All is not lost though; if every gardener in the UK were to turn 10% of their garden into a wild flower area, we could reinstate 10,000 acres of butterfly habitat!

Hence our new product MeadowMats: - Pre-grown mats to give you instant ground cover. Meadow mats establish fast and will flower in their first season (some not until their second season). Mixed perennial and biennial plants that will keep flowering year after year. Low maintenance. With plant species that are hardy throughout the UK.

Types of Meadow Mat available:
Traditional MeadowMat - an old fashioned hay meadow mix of grasses and flowers.

MeadowMat for Birds and Bees - 20% grass, 80% flower mixture, a plant selection especially rich in nectar for summer insects.

Cottage Garden MeadowMat - a glorious blend of native and non-native plants and grasses, bringing a beautiful splash of colour to your garden.

MeadowMat for Woodland Shade - subtle hues of woodland wildflowers into the shadier parts of your garden.

Don't forget all our usual products and services; excellent quality turf - delivered for you to lay, or use our Supply and Lay service. Top soil, bark mulches, etc. Call for further information, or to arrange a free, on site, no obligation quote.

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

■ THIS week's Growing Old Disgracefully looks at hair and whether the crewcut or blue rinse has had its day.

Most men when they grow older tend to have their hair cut shorter while most women favour a colour to get rid of white hair and there is no sign of this trend fading.

Take a walk down any street and you can see elderly men with hair cut so close it is down to scalp level while women are displaying hair colours reminiscent of an explosion in a paint factory.

There are a few elderly men displaying neat little pony tails, but frankly these look ridiculous when they go with their bald patch on top, so perhaps that's why the crewcut is so enduring.

And as for women? Well, the rainbow of colours seems to show their determination to keep the white of old age at bay and display a youthful outlook on life. It may also be why more elderly men are wearing dark glasses!

Coastpaths sliding inexorably towards the sea

JUST when you thought it was safe to go out a huge slice of coastline has sheared inexorably towards the sea.

This is not some small isolated incident but a major slip in the Bowleaze Cove-Redcliff Point area which people living nearby tell me has left crevices up to a dozen feet deep in places.

Only recently there was some consternation closer to Weymouth when it was revealed that Bowleaze will need a new access road in a few decades time if coastal erosion continues at its present rate.

The whole area is prone to land slippage and you only need to take a stroll to the edge of Furzy Cliffs and look down to see just how much slippage is taking place.

The very nature of this section of coastline means it will crack and shear and you only have to look at the slippage to see it contains evidence of paths worn by human feet.

Those paths are now 50ft lower and much closer to the beach and people have been forced to adjust their walking line and wear a fresh path near the edge of the slippage which, I'm sure, will also find itself sliding towards the beach in the fullness of time.

Anyone walking along this coastal walkway now needs to take special care and I'm sure we'll have numerous incidents this summer involving visitors getting into difficulty because they don't know the terrain.

Council staff in fat cat salary backlash

IT was just too much and the stoicism of long suffering employees finally snapped.

Proposals for major pay rises for senior council figures provoked a storm across South and West Dorset and led to a union protest outside County Hall in Dorchester.

Naturally a nice kick in the bank balance for top staff isn't something they want shouted from the rooftops ... so when the unions were consulted about it there was understandably some dismay.

But what got me about the whole situation is that scores of staff come from the Weymouth and Portland area and have been caught up in the remorseless grip of job losses, budget cutbacks and those expressions so beloved of councils, the "downsizing" or "streamlining" of departments.

No surprise then if there was an explosion of disbelief and fury from ordinary employees fighting to keep bread on the table when they found out senior figures had just been handed an invitation to a salary feast.

The growl from the protest - a rare public backlash - should send a chill down senior management spines because quite clearly a tipping point has been reached.

Up to now county council staff may have grudgingly bought into the authority's "we're all in this together" approach to austerity. I venture to suggest that may not be the case now.

It is difficult, if not impossible, to convince foot soldiers of the need for half rations when they see generals tucking into the financial foie gras.

So unless the county council does one of its famous - and hasty - u-turns then I foresee much tougher times ahead for County Hall mandarins who must be dreading the next round of general staff wage rise negotiations.

After all, those staff have just seen their bosses do very nicely thank-you and, since money is clearly there for those big rises, what's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

It must be spring!

FORECASTING the weather is never a simple matter.

Those unfortunate to be outside recently might have been forgiven for thinking that the forecaster they should have consulted was Mystic Meg because they had to cope with everything but the kitchen sink.

There were clear blue skies, sudden towering castles of black cloud, stillness, strong winds, rain, hail, sleet, snow, thunder and lightning.

I was among those out in this, all the weather conditions cramming themselves in to an incredible half hour period.

Initially I thought it was a cruel twist of weather fate, that a strong gust of wind was somehow stripping the blossom from my cherry tree.

I slowly reached the stunned conclusion that it was actually large flakes of snow drifting down.....and then it was my cherry blossom as a shower of hail battered the garden.

Shaking my head, I left for town during which drive we had sleet and then heavy rain and to round things off I was in the bank when there was a huge flash of lightning and a tremendous clap of thunder.

Thank God for that, I thought. It must be the arrival of the English summer!

■ DARREN Brown, Mayor Christine James and Vikki Thomas with others at the rally.

Bikers show their support for charity

MEMBERS of Weymouth and Portland Bikers roared away on a 120-mile round Dorset ride to show their support for Weymouth's Roadwise charity.

Organiser Darren Brown said the route took bikers away from Weymouth and on to Preston, Crossways, Blandford, Cranborne, Shaftesbury, Sherborne, Cerne Abbas, Dorchester, Bridport and back along the coast road to the finish at the Clifton Hotel on Portland.

He added: "We did it to support Roadwise because bikers often get a lot of bad press and Roadwise is educating young drivers and bikers on the importance of road safety. We want to do anything we can to help and promote Roadwise."

Weymouth and Portland Mayor Councillor Christine James attended the event, talked to bikers and waved them off.

She said: "I talked to Darren about Roadwise, asked him if the group would like to do something in support of it and he said yes."

"It was a good turnout today for what was a long trip – 120 miles – but it helped to highlight the work that Roadwise does."

Safewise manager Vikki Thomas, whose work at the Radipole Lane site includes Roadwise, said: "We are extremely grateful that Darren has chosen us as the charity they would like to support and help highlight what we do."

"We are trying to make contact with their representative views across the county in addition to the school work we do to help cut the number of road incidents including those involving bikers."

HMS Portland parade the freedom of the borough

HMS Portland will exercise its freedom of the borough rights in Weymouth today (Wednesday). The seafront parade will close the Esplanade from 2.30pm for about an hour.

The service and parade will be hosted by Mayor Cllr Christine James at 2.45pm at the Cenotaph on Weymouth Seafront with a service conducted by Father Richard Harper.

The parade will start from Prince Regent Hotel at approximately 3.15pm and will go along Weymouth Seafront to the Weymouth Pavilion Theatre.

Said Cllr James: "Weymouth and Portland has a marvellous and colourful seafaring heritage and retains very strong links with the Royal Navy. This is a great opportunity to celebrate and embrace this freedom tradition and give the Officers and Company of HMS Portland a tremendous welcome.

"This is one of my last major events as Mayor, I have invited previous and present civic leaders and I'm sure a great show will be put on for the area."

HMS Portland's Commanding Officer, Captain Paul Stroude, added: "Despite our busy programme we were determined to make the time to visit HMS Portland's affiliated borough. I know my Ship's Company are looking forward to being able to exercise the freedom of the borough by marching along Weymouth Seafront."

HMS Portland commissioned in 2001 and is one of the Royal Navy's Type 23 Frigates.

A GOOD selection of stalls was on show when Weymouth's St Laurence Church held its annual Spring Fayre.

The event at Upwey Old School had tables loaded with plants while other stalls included cakes, preserves, collectibles, flower arrangements, books and a big raffle.

Organiser Maureen carter said: "All money raised will go to church funds to help look after the fabric of the building."

"We were very pleased at the support we got and we would like to thank all our helpers."

"Last year we raised more than £900 and we hope to beat that this year."

Church fair is a growing success

Broadwindsor Craft and Design Centre & Restaurant

Situated in the heart of West Dorset's beautiful rolling countryside, the Broadwindsor Craft and Design Centre can be found nestled on the edge of the village. Established in 1986, redundant farm buildings on the edge of the village were the starting point for this unique venture. Today, the Craft Centre is renowned for its excellence and quality.

The Centre underwent a major transformation in 2002 when an extension was built from locally quarried stone. This allowed the addition of two dedicated rooms:- the toy room and the garden gift room. The main shop gallery was also opened at this time displaying pictures, lighting and bedroom furniture along with a range of woodburning / electric stoves, fireside tools, fire guards and log baskets.

In 2012 the Craft Centre opened the Attic Gallery, exhibiting many talented artists from the local area. You can also find a number of independently run craft studios, dedicated to showcasing the craftsmanship involved in producing beautiful gifts, materials and one of a kind masterpieces. The craft studios hosts: Caboodle, which specialises in modern and vintage attire and unusual wares; Earth Design, which offers an amazing array of gifts from around the world; Sophie Rose Soft Furnishings & Interiors, which offers hand finished and bespoke soft furnishings to brighten up any room; Mingled Yarn Weaving Studio offers a fascinating selection of handwoven textiles and weaving, spinning and textile craft supplies; and Malcolm Giladjan, who is a well established local artist who paints with oil and mixed media, his work has a visionary quality, charged with energy.

Pop to the Craft Centre today to see and experience one of Dorset's best-kept secrets! Why not make a day of it by having a delicious homemade lunch, or treat yourself to a scrumptious afternoon tea!

Rebecca Downes
Power and performance

BIRMINGHAM-BASED Rebecca Downes and her band are a 'must see' live act that often leaves newcomers simply blown away by the power of the performance. With her co-writer Steve Birkett alongside her, a very tight band behind, and Rebecca's powerful voice to the fore, the 6-piece outfit performs original tracks from the EP Real Life, the highly-acclaimed debut album Back To The Start and the superb second album Believe, punctuated by a few classic covers. The core of their music is the Blues, but they embrace elements of rock, soul, funk and jazz to deliver an exciting, passionate set. Rebecca Downes performs live at Dorchester Corn Exchange for DA Blues on Saturday, May 14th, at 8pm (doors and bar 7.30pm). Tickets are £13/£6.50 in advance, or £14/£7 on the door. Senior citizen tickets £11 advance, or £12 door.

Blues wizard

Prodigious talent Laurence Jones to play Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend

Laurence Jones

BLUES GUITAR-SLINGER and multi award-winner Laurence Jones is breaking off from a European tour to play a guitar-fuelled finale at this year's Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend.

The young blues guitarist, who's been taking the British blues scene by storm, is interrupting his European tour especially to play the Lyme Regis festival. Voted "Young Artist of the Year" by the British Blues Awards two years running and the "Best European Guitarist" by the European Blues Awards last year, Jones comes with an immaculate pedigree.

Inspired by Jimi Hendrix, Laurence Jones brings a fresh and innovative style of playing not seen since the likes of fellow Brit-bluesmen, Eric Clapton and John Mayall. His powerful, percussive and pulsating performances are exciting audiences around the UK and Europe in a relentless touring schedule.

Having supported the legendary Walter Trout on his UK tour last year, Laurence is now consolidating his position as the most important young blues star to emerge in Britain for decades. With three acclaimed albums already under his belt, his fourth album is eagerly awaited after working with producer, Mike Vernon, the man who recorded Fleetwood Mac, Eric Clapton and David Bowie.

In between touring, Laurence helps to raise awareness and funds for Crohn's & Colitis UK, after being diagnosed with Crohn's disease when 18. Festival-goers are being encouraged to make donations to the charity when they purchase tickets.

As festival organiser, Julie Sheppard said, "With his clutch of awards, acclaimed recordings and extensive gigging, Laurence Jones is the new blues wizard. This is your chance to see Laurence in an intimate venue before he starts playing those large stadia which are surely beckoning. His shows are explosive, exhilarating and full of energy. I can't think of a more fitting finale to our festival".

Laurence Jones plays at the Marine Theatre on Sunday, May 29th as part of Lyme Regis Jazz Festival. Doors open 7.30pm. Tickets are £13/15 plus booking fee. Tickets from: www.lymeregiszjazzfestival.co.uk or Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre on 01297 442138.

Follow the Lyme Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend at www.facebook.com/lymeregiszjazzfestival to get latest updates. Free programme out now.

Musical satire from Jonny & The Baptists

The End is Nigh

MUSICAL SATIRISTS Jonny & The Baptists are bringing their climate change comedy-theatre crossover hit The End Is Nigh to Bridport Arts Centre on Friday 20 May. The show is a musical comedy about family, friendship and environmental disaster. The tour is part of a 4 date UK wide tour which follows an acclaimed Edinburgh Fringe premiere and last year's sell-out Rock The Vote tour.

The new show - The End Is Nigh - from the award winning musical comedians features a combination of barnstorming satirical rock to flights of brilliant silliness. It is a captivating story of family, friendship and environmental disaster. Last year, Jonny accidentally told his four-year old niece climate change would end the work. To stop her crying, he and Paddy promised to fix it. They really tried very hard...

Jonny & The Baptists have been regulars on BBC Radio 4's The Now Show, and supported Mark Thomas on tour and recently appeared on the BBC's Live at Television Centre. The show marks the return to Bridport Arts Centre for star Jonny Donahoe - in September 2015 he brought his hit one-man show Every Brilliant Thing which sold out. So make sure you get tickets for this great show before they go!

Jonny & The Baptists bring The End Is Nigh to Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, May 20th at 8pm. Tickets are £12 and £10, available from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

TBOB main sponsor and extra acts announced

PHIL GORDON, organiser of this summer's exciting Thorncombe Battle of Bands (TBOB), has announced their key sponsor: "I am absolutely thrilled that Bevis and Beckingsale have agreed to come on board and be our key sponsoring partner for TBOB.rock. They are a great local business that have been really supportive of what we are trying to achieve for the local music scene with TBOB."

"It's really important to give up-and-coming musical talent the chance to shine. I'm sure they will get a real buzz playing to such an enthusiastic crowd."

"At TBOB it's all about the music and wanting artists to get the best out of themselves, playing to a full venue of people urging them onto success."

TBOB has already signed up an impressive eight bands to play after just a couple of weeks with more to follow. Phil told View 2: "I'm delighted to say that we've also started getting entries from the local colleges and academics, so the U21's award should be well contested too - is your school represented yet?"

Mark Carlisle, a Partner in Bevis & Beckingsale's Axminster Office, says: "We are delighted to be involved with this event. We always try to support our local communities and to be given the opportunity to play a part in what promises to be a fantastic weekend is very welcome. Apart from the Beer and Cider Festival, which obviously will be enjoyable, it will be super to be able to watch the young musical talent show what they can do. The organisers deserve our support and thanks for all the hard work they have put in."

TBOB is part of the Thorncombe Beer and Cider festival which takes place on July 1st and 2nd. There's a full program of events from Friday night when all competing bands will start playing from 6.30pm. Saturday from 11.00am, there's a six a side cricket competition, family rounders, sideshows and stalls before the grand finale of TBOB starting at 6.30pm.

If you know of any good local musicians that might want to get involved, send them to tboob.rock@bt.com. They can apply at www.tboob.rock and will be able to find all the info there.

Shonaleigh and the tale of The Opal Forest

SHONALEIGH CUMBERS, well-known and well-loved teller of extraordinary tales, returns to the Story Café at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, May 20th for the fourth year running. In the story of The Opal Forest, nobody emerges unscathed. They stagger out of the forest and into the light and for a moment it is the real world that seems like a dream.

Come and hear what happens to the scholar who becomes a hero, the wise man who is driven mad, while the fool becomes a warrior without reason and the innocent are older than they should be. Learn that the happiness of a single moment can last a lifetime; a landscape of sorrow can last beyond the grave. The key is knowing which forest to get lost in, which mountain to climb, which battle to walk away from.

Doors open at 7pm and the story-telling begins at 7.30pm. The evening is suitable for adults and older children. Booking in advance is advisable. Tickets are £8 (£5 concessions) available from Bridport Arts Centre box office, by phone 01308 424204 and the website www.bridport-arts.com

Symondsbury Estate's Spring Fair

ENJOY a spring fair in the location of Manor Yard in Symondsbury.

On Thursday, June 2nd from 11am to 7pm, Symondsbury Estate will be hosting a Spring Fair at Manor Yard in the village of Symondsbury. The fair will have a horseback falconry show, various farm animals, ferret racing, face painting, kids activities, bouncy castle, candy floss and garden games. Along with free entry and parking it will be a great day out for all the family. A colouring competition for children with the opportunity of winning a horse & cart ride around the estate along with various other prizes. There will also be a draw with the opportunity to win a horseback falconry experience with Jonathan Marshall.

Set in the pretty village of Symondsbury, just outside Bridport, Manor Yard is a beautifully restored and revitalised traditional Dorset farmyard. You'll find some one-off independent shops including a fused glass workshop, fashion boutique, stone carver & vinyl record shop, interior designer, re upholstered furniture, arts and crafts shop, bike shop along with a vintage and retro barn.

Symondsbury Kitchen & Store will be open throughout the fair offering food & drink and the Tithe Barn will be open for the public to look around. The fully licensed bar in the barn will also remain open after the fair for the first of its Thursday evenings as a place to enjoy a drink in relaxed surroundings.

With over 30 stalls dotted around the yard you can enjoy browsing the local food produce & craft stalls.

There are still a limited number of pitches available for stall holders.

Local artists join forces for stained glass exhibition

JACKIE Hunt and Liz Hollingworth have joined together to exhibit their work in a stunning location overlooking the river Brit in the heart of West Bay, next door to the famous Riverside Restaurant. The chalet is an ideal venue to display the special qualities of stained glass.

Jackie designs and makes varied and striking glass panels, ranging from small decorative domestic pieces to large public artworks, using traditional and contemporary techniques. She has been making stained glass to commission for over twenty-five years and teaching stained glass for the last twelve.

Jackie will also be exhibiting with others at Dorset Centre for the Creative Arts in Poundbury for Dorset Artweeks and running a stained glass workshop there on 8th/9th June. For details and booking see www.jackiehunt.co.uk Liz's interest in stained glass started in Hampstead in London. After 35 years of running her own business in an increasingly stressful environment her need to turn to something creative and away from commerce became essential. She trained in workshops at Camden lock and fell in love with working in this medium.

Liz moved to Dorset in 1998 and developed her love of stained glass mostly in the form of mosaics. For this exhibition various styles of handcrafted mirrors are displayed, together with a selection of her photographs focused on the environs of the chalet.

Come and enjoy the exhibition with tea and cake beside the riverside! Open 11am - 7pm daily, from May 21st to June 2nd, the second week as part of Dorset Artweeks.

Comedy Night sails back to the Pilot Boat

AFTER a sell out first show the new Pilot Boat Inn comedy night in Lyme Regis returns next week with another bumper line up of comedians.

The May show will feature something for all comedy fans with five acts ranging from straight stand up to musical comedy and even a bit of magic.

Headlining the show will be the award winning James Alderson, a master of observational stand up and a hit with audiences of all ages.

James has appeared on TV in the UK and the US and last year won the 'Best Comedy Act' at the WOW247 awards.

Opening the show will be comedy magician 'Wayne the Weird', who combines his comedy with outrageous tricks and pitch perfect audience interaction.

Completing the line up will be Devon based comics Louis Burgess and Sandi Smith.

Louis is known for his hilarious musical parodies and hip hop stylings, while Sandi delights in sharing her tales of parenting and being an older woman.

Hosting the show will be resident compere, and local comic, Tom Glover, "The first show went better than we could ever have expected so we're delighted to be back with another great line up", he said.

"All the acts are hand picked by me and they are some of the funniest comedians on the circuit today."

"We were over the moon to see the local support for the first gig and if we can continue that I'll be able to keep bringing great acts down to Lyme and hopefully even a few TV names in the future."

Tickets for the show are £8 and are avail-

STYLE SEMINAR: MAKING YOUR HOLIDAY PROPERTY WORK HARDER

Leading south west holiday company Classic Cottages (www.classic.co.uk) is bringing its property styling masterclass to Dorset this May.

The South West holiday experts have drawn on their 39 years' experience in the holiday property business to create a helpful and useful session for property owners. The Seminar, open to owners of holiday properties regardless of the agency they are with, will offer advice on how to boost a property's appeal with potential bookers.

The seminar, which takes place at Furleigh Estate on Wednesday 18th May, features guest speakers including Iona Service from Gesso Interiors and Brian and Terrie Covington property owners who have turned a run-down barn into an outstanding holiday property. Rebecca Hansford from Furleigh will also be speaking about wines from their Dorset vineyard.

Classic's Property Managers for Dorset, Amanda Mitchell and Anna Hamlyn, will be sharing their top tips for running a successful holiday property and offering advice on how to boost a property's appeal with potential bookers. The team will also offer practical renovation and upcycling tips.

"Over the course of the morning you'll discover how to improve your property by making small changes that will make a big difference to your visitor's experience and, ultimately, your rental income." - Simon Tregoning, Chairman of Classic Cottages.

Classic, who look after just shy of 900 properties for owners across the South West, have their finger on the pulse of what makes a good holiday home. That, coupled with the solid back-up of skills and infrastructure at their head office, maximises bookings for holiday properties. Classic's team of professional Property Managers, like Amanda and Anna, are always on hand to support owners and visitors alike.

"We've been managing holiday cottages for over 39 years. We know that good experiences and good environments make great holidays. People love staying in beautiful, comfortable and aspirational properties. Getting this right encourages repeat bookings as well as referrals. Our Property Managers are an important part of this mix and look after owners and visitors, it's this commitment and attention to detail that makes Classic successful." - Simon.

Spaces on the half-day session, which starts at 10am with coffee, tea and pastries and finishes with lunch at 12.30pm, must be booked in advance. Tickets are a nominal £3 per person or £5 per couple. To secure your place call 01326 555 550 or email lizzie@classic.co.uk.

Lanehouse Vauxhall gives £500 Spring gift with new car purchases

BLUEBELLS, blossom and lambs are all starting to make an appearance, so it's time to shake off winter and starting exploring what the UK has to offer. Whether your most desired spring break destination is Salcombe, Aberystwyth, Lyme Regis or Edinburgh, local Vauxhall retailer, Lanehouse Vauxhall, is giving customers the chance to drive away in a brand new Vauxhall along with a £500 Gift* to splash on a break or whatever they want.

Customers can pop down to Lanehouse Vauxhall, with sites in Bridport and Weymouth, between 12 - 16 May 2016 to put a shiny new Vauxhall on their drive and a spring in their step.

During the five day event, customers will get the £500 Gift on top of Vauxhall's other great offers such as the Corsa Limited Edition for just £169 per month with advance rental¹, which comes with one year's insurance¹, free for 21-75 year olds or only £99 for 18 - 20 year olds.

Furthermore, customers can also get 20% off all genuine and approved Vauxhall accessories, including a vast array of equipment such as sat navs, iPhone/iPad cradles and cargo liners, when they purchase a new car or van. These deals are on top of Vauxhall's existing range of available offers.

Dominic Avery, Customer Director at Lanehouse Vauxhall, comments: "The Vauxhall £500 Gift event is a delight for our customers who want to treat themselves to a new car and then go and enjoy it somewhere special or treat themselves to something they really want.

"We'd like to invite all those interested in a new vehicle to stop by our dealership during the event to take advantage of the offers available and discover the Vauxhall that best suits their needs."

The £500 Gift is available on a wide range of models, including the urban-chic ADAM city car, fun-loving Corsa, award-winning New Astra and all-season soft-top Cascada.

As well as passenger cars, the offer is applicable on models from Vauxhall's practical yet stylish, multi-award-winning van range, including the new-look Corsavan, Combo, Vivaro and Movano, so commercial vehicle customers can benefit too.

The Vauxhall £500 Gift event takes place between 12 - 16 May 2016 at your local Lanehouse Vauxhall. For more details, please visit the retailer, or go online to www.lanehousevauxhall.co.uk.

*Participating Retailers only. £500 Gift on selected models only but excludes VIVA, Corsa Sting, and Corsa Sting R. £500 gift is not given in cash. Offer applies to private individuals, Vauxhall Partners and small businesses 1-24 units (purchase only). All other customers are excluded. Offer restricted to eligible, selected new vehicles ordered between 12 - 16 May 2016 and registered by 30th June 2016. Terms, conditions and exclusions apply. Refer to www.vauxhall.co.uk/salesevent or contact your local Retailer for details.

¹Personal contract hire offer on Corsa Limited Edition 1.4i 75PS ecoFLEX, 3-Door in Flame Red with Advanced Park Assist and Bi-Xenon headlights, on orders received before 30 June 2016, subject to availability and status.

Age 18+ only. Figures based on a non-maintenance contract hire package with advance rental of £2,704, then 35 monthly rentals of £169.

¹First year insurance offer available on Corsa Limited Edition only, excluding Red and Black Editions. All drivers must have held a valid full UK licence for a minimum of 1 year. All policies are underwritten by Ageas Insurance Ltd. Other insurance specific T&Cs apply.

Glovers news

Finished
on a blank

Yeovil Town 0 Leyton Orient 1

SkyBet Div 2 - att; 4,163

IT was a shame that Yeovil Town signed off their season with a disappointing defeat at the hands of Leyton Orient.

Following the desperate first half of the season when fans saw the Glovers win just one league game at home, back in August against Luton, supporters had only witnessed one defeat in the 11 league games since Darren Way took over as manager at the beginning of December.

The change in fortune saw them steer clear of almost certain relegation from the Football League and into non-league oblivion.

It would have been nice therefore if they could have finished on a high.

Victory would have seen them finish a very creditable 16th, but Ollie Palmer's well struck shot three minutes from time actually saw them drop a place to 19th; still excellent considering their plight at the turn of the year.

Chances going to waste

In what was an entertaining match, played in a quite good spirit; especially remembering the aggravating, niggling style of O's manager Andy Hessenthaler; and although Yeovil dominated the game, their Achilles heel; their inability to turn possession into goals; continued to the end.

Way said: "We were very disappointing in the final third again. You can't have that amount of possession and they have one or two chances, and end up losing the game. We absolutely dominated the game."

However despite the disappointment, we have to look back at a number of plusses.

Whilst it would be to the club's advantage to have more players on the books, the use of the loan system once again proved to be successful for the club's and from the fans point of view gave us a chance to get a look at some stars of the future.

Over the seasons we have seen Steven Caulker, Andros Townsend, Asmir Begovic, Stephen Henderson, Wayne Henderson, Alex McCarthy and Ryan Mason to name a few that have passed through Huish Park on their way to greater things.

Much deserved award

This season has been no different. Connor Roberts swept the board at the end of season awards which were presented after the game.

He has played every minute of every game for the Glovers this season, bar one, when he was called up for his first Welsh U21 cap over Easter.

His consistency and energy has been a joy to watch, and although keeper Artur Krysiac deservedly ran him a close second, he was the tops.

The other star has been Liam Walsh. The 18-year-old joined on loan from Everton in January and whilst he had spells on the touchline due to injury and suspensions, his skill has been a revelation and is surely bound for higher things.

His vision, pace and work rate were second to none and the springboard for so many things that have been good under Way.

So it's onward and upwards hopefully for the Glovers. The despondency of pre-Christmas is now a distant memory, and hopefully Way can build on this.

Subramanian sinks Wareham

KRISHNAN Subramanian was the undoubted start of the second week of the cricket season.

He took 9-12 for Abbotsbury against Wareham, including a double wicket maiden and a hat-trick. With six wickets last week, he has already claimed 15 wickets for just 26 runs.

SHILLINGSTONE (0) 89 ALL OUT
LOST TO DORCHESTER 93-0 (20) BY 10 WICKETS

A SUPERB bowling display from James Dunham (5-35) backed up by new boy Josh Richardson (3-16) gave Dorchester the platform for an easy victory over shell-shocked Shillingstone.

After Dunham's opening burst that saw the hosts 40-5, only Roy Haycock (23) and later Bob Edwards (20no) managed to resist as Shillingstone were demolished for 89 all out.

Dorchester's openers Dan Belt and Nick Roe continued on from last week when they put on 144 for the first wicket, by knocking off the required runs with 16 overs to spare, with Belt hitting 11x4s and a six in his unbeaten 68 along with Roe (15no).

Captain Simon Mitchell said: "I was very pleased at the way we approached the game. Although they elected to bat I wasn't too worried as it was very humid and I thought we would get something out of the wicket."

"James Dunham was superb up the front, as was Josh Richardson. They came out a bit gungho and I think our quality showed through."

"Dan Belt with a half century for the second week showed his class with the bat."

MARTINSTOWN (18) 269-5 BEAT STALBRIDGE 267-6 (7) BY 4 WICKETS

MARTINSTOWN did well to chase down a big target to record their first win of the new campaign.

Electing to field they had an early success through Chris Read (2-69), but Stuart Sweatman (47), Rob Burfitt (65) and George Coleman (42) saw the visitors on 183-3.

Some tight bowling including Tom Nicholls (2-30) had seen them fall behind the run rate, and despite some late big blows they gave Martinstown a chance.

Helped by a number of dropped catches the hosts made a steady start with Lee House (49) and Sam Kershaw (55) adding 90 for the second wicket.

However, they still needed 60 from the last ten overs before Fraser Hill (68), who hit 66 on debut last week thumped Coleman for three successive 6s to ease the rate, before Nicholls (38no).

and Ollie Gargrave (18no) saw them home in an unbeaten sixth wicket stand of 41 with three overs left.

Captain Ed Nichols was pleased with his side's all round performance particularly the return to form of opener Lee House and new boy Hill who has started with two half centuries.

County Division One

WEYMOUTH (8) 155 ALL OUT LOST TO BROADSTONE 2ND (19) 184 ALL OUT BY 29 RUNS

CAPTAIN Simon Browne described this defeat to Broadstone 2nd's as a carbon copy of the previous week's win at Bere Regis.

"It was a bit of a carbon copy of last week at Bere Regis where the home captain unsure of the wicket, put us in. We got more runs that they thought they would and won, this week it was the other way around.

"We had them at 111-6 and I thought we may be able to keep them down to 150 which I think we would have got no problem, but Griffiths and Poole put on a good stand that bumped them up to 180 plus.

"Unfortunately we lost early wickets to Griffiths who bowled well that ripped the top out of the order and we were always playing catch up."

Graham Puckett (1-19) struck early, and with Dave Pearce (3-30) and all the home bowlers producing useful spells, signs were good for the Seaside. However Griffiths (30) and Rich Poole (35) put on 65 for the seventh wicket to help Broadstone finish on 184 all out.

Weymouth's top order never got on top of Griffiths (4-18) and Lee Craven (2-24) as they slumped to 55-5 with only one Kieron Womble (25) looking comfortable.

Tom England (43) and Dave Pearce (22) gave the Seaside's hope with a stand of 48 but once that partnership was broken the tail end could not resist and they fell 29 runs short.

Browne added: "We had a better batting line-up than last week, but unfortunately we didn't get enough runs. Tom England batted well but ran out of partners."

County Division Two

BLANDFORD (5) 161-5 LOST TO CATTISTOCK (17) 162-4 BY 6 WICKETS

CATTISTOCK made it two from two with a good win over Blandford, and although they don't have a good record at chasing, they won this comfortably by eight wickets.

Main contributors to the hosts score were Luke Haines (45no) and A Mitchell (34) whilst Jon Legg (3-33) was the main threat with the ball.

Cattistock lost Martin Langford early lbw to a ball that kept low, but Legg (48) and Billy Walbridge (21) recovered the situation with a stand of 66. Steve Tucker then hit a quick fire 37 before Liam Toohill (35no) saw them home with Steve Baker (7no).

PORTLAND RED TRIANGLE (20)

315-8 BEAT ASHMORE (5) 135 ALL OUT BY 180 RUNS

THIS was an easy victory for Portland RT over a nine-man Ashmore side.

All of the top five made useful contributions with Simon Profit (76) and Simon Barrett (61) leading the way as they amassed 318-8.

Despite a half century from Lee Russell, Ashmore lost wickets regularly and with Gary Randall (3-26) and two wickets each for Matthew Barrett and Matt Randall, the visitors were bowled out 180 short of the target.

Captain Matt Randall said: "It's nice to get back to winning ways. It was a good team performance with everyone excelling with both bat and ball."

County Division 3

BEAMINSTON 128 (6) ALL OUT LOST TO BOURNEMOUTH 3RD (20) 291-8 BY 163 RUNS

BEAMINSTON were made to pay for inserting the visitors as an impressive Bournemouth side racked up 291-8 from their 45 overs.

Their top three batsmen all scored half centuries while the Beaminster bowlers toiled and the fielders struggled to stem the flow of boundaries.

None of the six bowlers used were able to gain any control as the batters dominated proceedings; Pete Bustin (3-60) and Ade Phillips (2-50) returning the best figures, whilst Justin Gurd took up to 180 plus.

"Unfortunately we lost early wickets to Griffiths who bowled well that ripped the top out of the order and we were always playing catch up."

Graham Puckett (1-19) struck early, and with Dave Pearce (3-30) and all the home bowlers producing useful spells, signs were good for the Seaside. However Griffiths (30) and Rich Poole (35) put on 65 for the seventh wicket to help Broadstone finish on 184 all out.

DORCHESTER 2ND (20) 184-7 BEAT SHILLINGSTONE 2ND (7) 180 ALL OUT BY 3 WICKETS

DORCHESTER 2nds put last week's defeat behind them with a good win over Shillingstone 2nds.

Fielding first, Dorchester took wickets regularly through the innings with U15 player Nathan Quinn leading the way with 3-22 and both Matt Porter and captain Mike Peak both bagging a brace, whilst George Foot bowled well for his 1-25 from five overs.

Dorchester found themselves in a little trouble at 15-2, but Malcolm Stroudley (36) and Porter (28) steadied the ship before Simon Joslin took them over the line.

Slightly behind the pace, he doctored the strike to finish with an unbeaten 53 not out as he guided his side home in the penultimate over.

The target proved well beyond Wareham as the spin of Krishnan Subramanian immediately produced a double wicket maiden.

Subramanian's third over was even better, The Wareham batsmen all at sea as three more wickets fell.

Matt Truman struck some classy shots as he top scored with 17 before tickling Subramanian behind into the gloves of Budd. Further mayhem followed as a hat-trick meant a clean sweep of ten wickets looked a distinct possibility for the magical Subramanian.

But Straker's replacement Jay Lintern (1-2) turned party pooper as he induced last man John Norman into edging on to his stumps, leaving Subramanian with the magnificent figures of 9-12 from six overs.

Abbotsbury captain Simon Pengelly said: "This has been a good start to the season. Krish Subramanian, in particular, has been very impressive taking 15 wickets in the first two games."

CHARLTON DOWN (20) 39-0 BEAT SWANAGE 2ND (0) 38 ALL OUT BY 10 WICKETS

CHARLTON Down eased to a comfortable 10 wicket win over a weakened but experienced Swanage 2nds, where disciplined bowling and some breath taking catches produced a great all round display.

It was the combination of youth and experience which started the Swanage collapse.

Sixteen-year-old Dan Stevens bowled beautifully for his 2-9 from six overs which included a full length catch by Roger Frapwell at cover, followed by another well judged diving catch by Jae Miller at mid on. Matt Stevens then bowled captain Pete Barker to leave Swanage 10-3.

The introduction of spin from Kim Park (3-4 -one a diving return catch), and Rich Gage (4-16) bowling an exquisite length together with a sharp catch by wicketkeeper Rob Deadman and an instinctive breath-taking low catch at slip by Dan Steven's saw Swanage bowled out for a meagre 38 inside 20 overs.

Roger Frapwell (16*) and Jae Miller (13*) knocked off the winning runs in ten overs to ensure an emphatic victory and 20 points.

Captain Pete Tucker said: "Four excellent catches never gave Swanage a chance to recover."

Matt and Dan Stevens once again bowled tightly and this helped to put the pressure on the Swanage batsmen and it was pleasing to see Kim Park grow in confidence - he was unlucky not to have better figures than 3-4 off only three overs.

Rich Gage, who actually prepared the wicket, reaped his rewards with four wickets and bowled an impeccable line."

County Division Five

BERE REGIS 2ND (20) 196-5 BEAT MARTINSTOWN 2ND (4) 122 ALL OUT BY 74 RUNS

ALAN Lambert produced an amazing spell of bowling to kill any hopes of Martinstown 2nds getting anything on Saturday.

Despite useful contributions from Sean Williams (20), Jack Kane (20), Nathan McNab (21) and Grant Nevin (26) they needed to accelerate to have a chance of reaching their target of 197.

But Lambert struck claiming 4-1 in 4.1 overs to leave them 74 runs short.

Earlier they had struggled as Mark Woolley hit 62 for the hosts with Chris Monteith best with 3-35.

County Division Six

WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 4TH (6) 263-7 LOST TO PORTLAND RT 2ND (6) 268-3 BY 7 WKTS

CAPTAIN Jan Davey led his side to an exciting three wicket victory at Wimborne. The hosts set a good target with J Williams (107) leading the way with Tony Morris (2-25) Triangles best bowler.

However although they lost John Walker (15) with the score on 38 in reply, Grant Lee (46) and Gareth Price (44) added 80 for the second wicket before Dave Males (46*) and Davey took them to victory with an unbeaten fourth wicket stand of 144 with seven overs to spare.

Davey's 87 not out included 12x4 and 5x6s, one of which broke a tile on the roof of a surrounding house, a feat which it is believed hasn't been achieved for a number of years by a Triangle player.

CREWKERNE (2) 58 ALL OUT LOST TO BROADWINDSOR (19) 60-3 BY 7 WICKETS

BRADLEY Damen (3-7), Murray Legg (2-8) reduced their hosts to 12-5 as Broadwindsor won their second game of the season.

Crewkerne never recovered and despite 21 from Jack Male late on they were dismissed for just 58 as young Rob Meech with 2-3 from his one over and Ryan Sweetman (2-29) completed the rout.

Chris Park was the mainstay of Broadwindsor's reply with 23 as they passed the total off 16 overs.

Captain Ade Phillips was glad however he won the toss. "The wicket was very green and soft, and we bowled and fielded well. However, I wouldn't have wanted to chase a hundred as the wicket was tricky."

SYMENE (17) 94-5 BEAT BROADWAY & HORTON (4) 93-9 BY 5 WKTS

SYMENE had a comfortable win in their first game in the Mid-Wessex League.

Jon Legg got them off to a great start with a wicket in his first over without a run on the board, and wickets fell steadily with only Dylan Lowman (32) showing any resistance.

Legg finished with 4-9 from his five overs and Liam Toohill 2-17 and Kevin Pragnell 2-14 as the visitors were restricted to 93-9.

Legg (16) and Nick Skyrme made a steady start in reply but wickets began to tumble as Matt Derham (4-16) took charge, and at tea with five down and 40 runs still required, Symene decided to take things steady.

Skyrme (24*) playing in the Bailey/Boycott mode, carried his bat, and with young Luke Robertson (15*) they saw the hosts home in 27 overs.

Top batting performances: Jan Davey (Portland RT 2nd) 87*; Simon Proffitt (Portland RT) 76; Simon Pengelly (Abbotsbury) 72; Dan Belt (Dorchester) 68*; Fraser Hill (Martinstown) 68; Simon Barrett (Portland RT) 61; Simon Joslin (Dorchester 2nd) 53*.

Top bowling performances: Krishnan Subramanian (Abbotsbury) 9-12; James Dunham (Dorchester) 5-35.

Lyme Regis Bowls Wimborne woes

THERE was disastrous start for the championship men as they were whitewashed away to Wimborne.

It looked as if Paul Pomeroy's rink was going to provide us with two points as they went into the last end two up. Unfortunately they dropped four on the 21st to lose by two shots.

The ladies managed a sneaky five points against Poole Park in the Dorset league, Nola Stephen's rink managed to pick up four shots on the last end to force the draw.

In the South Dorset league, the men got off to a flying start with an 8-2 win over Wellworthy B.

In the friendlies it was win two lose two. The loss against Bridport men was self-inflicted. Lyme failed to put out six rinks and played with just three on four of the rinks. As a result they had to forfeit 19 shots!

Lyme Regis Sailing

Two firsts for Tylers

RACES 6,7,8 of the Late Spring series were sailed on Sunday in superb conditions with a steady SE wind, force 3/4, shifting by only five degrees during the four hours spent on the water.

'White horses' were thrown up covering the course as the dropping tide opposed the onshore wind.

Race officer Tony Fastnedge was able to set a windward leg of two thirds of a mile giving good scope for tactics.

Race Six gave the faster boats an advantage on the quick first lap which they were able to maintain even though the wind dropped to make their third round slower than the higher handicap (slower) boats, limited to two laps, experienced for their final round.

Results were computed on average lap times, with the faster boats still managing to take the first three places.

Races Seven and Eight were held over the sausage/triangle pattern of Olympic courses, giving increased spinaker-carrying opportunities.

These races were timed for nearer 40 minutes each and most sailors completed all three, though several of the single-handed helms in their Lasers found over three hours in total demanding and retired before the third.

Jon Turner held first place over two visiting Merlins, achieving second, third and first places to leave him first equal overall with Allan and Chrissey Tyler, two firsts and a fourth today, both on seven points after the five races sailed.

Bridport Gig Rowing Club Club

Heads held high at World champs

BRIDPORT gig rowing club took over 40 rowers and supporters to the Isles of Scilly for the recent World Pilot Gig Championships.

Thousands of rowers took part in the largest event in the championship's 27-year history.

Crews from countries including the UK, Bermuda, Holland and the USA took part this year making for over 150 different crews. Friday the 29th saw the start of the world championship races; two ladies' veteran crews, a men's vets crew and a men's super vets crew from Bridport gig club took to the water to race the 1.8 mile race from St Agnes to St Marys quay.

Battling over 70 rival boats and challenging sea conditions from the large Atlantic swell, the ladies vets A crew in Dagger finished 9th in the world – an amazing result after the shock of being seeded amongst some of the world's top crews; based on last year's results.

The ladies vets B crew in Blaez finished 39th; another considerable improvement on last year's result.

The men's veterans' crew finished in 25th place in Blaez, and Bridport men's super-vets crew secured 11th place in Dagger.

The main races of the weekend started on Saturday morning, with the long race from St Agnes to St. Mary's Quay, followed by three shorter heats from Nut Rock to St Mary's Quay.

The Saturday morning saw Bridport ladies A, B, and C crews tackle the long race with over 140 boats on a start line.

The ladies A had a very strong race, rowing in Dagger, finishing in the top 40 boats, resulting in a place in group C (groups A-L).

The ladies B crew also had a positive race, rowing in Blaez, and secured a place in group H.

Bridport's Ladies C crew, nicknamed 'Bridregis', consisted of three Bridport ladies, Bridport cox Mark Vanstone and three ladies from Lyme Regis gig club. Rowing in 'Rebel' kindly loaned by Lyme, began their heats in group G.

In the men's long race Bridport's A crew secured a place in group C.

The mens B finished the race within the top 100, beginning the next heat in group G. The Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning heats provided some challenging conditions with large swells and gusty winds.

The Ladies B crew remained in group C across the heats, finishing 9th in their final race and 94th overall.

The Ladies C crew did drop down a group but had a good final race coming 108th out of the 144.

The Ladies A also dropped down into group D, although they flew over the line in the final winning the group. This meant a place on the podium for their victory and finishing 37th in the world.

Rounding up the championships were the men's finals, where the world champions are decided, the mens B came in at 94th place after racing the final in group H.

The men's A in Dagger maintained their place in group C throughout finishing the championships in 36th position.

Men's world champions were Falmonth, and ladies winners were Caradon.

All Bridport crews improved considerably on last year's results.

The next regatta is hosted by Weymouth later this month.

Men's Section

SUNDAY'S competition for the men was a three-man team Stableford Bowmaker – the first six holes one score to count, the second six holes two scores to count and the last six holes three scores to count.

Eighteen teams took part and the winning team was; Geoff Joy(19), Nigel Challis(18) & Terry Cleal(20) with 79 points. Second, with 78 were Richard Parry(18), Andrew Blackmore(18) & Roger Galpin(16). Third with 76 were Martin Drennan(12), Peter Marshall(9) & Vince Adams(7).

Veterans Section; The veterans Thursday competition was a self-entry, single division Stableford.

Fifty players took part but, despite the very pleasant conditions there were no spectacular scores, maybe because of the difficulty of keeping the balls on the fairly firm greens?

Richard Parry (36 points) emerged as he winner with Colin Hore one point behind with a close procession following him.

Results: 1st Richard Parry(19) 36 points, 2nd Colin Hore(16) 35, 3rd Doug Howells(19) 34, 4th (acb) Richard Fox(19) 33, 5th (acb) Brian Fearon(13) 33. Parry received a one shot handicap reduction.

In the afternoon there was a home match versus Long Sutton and this resulted in a convincing 5½-½ win for Bridport.

Mixed Section; There was a Stableford competition on Bank Holiday Monday open to all members.

There were 16 entrants and the winner was Avril Brown(35) with 38 points, Second was Geoff Hunt(25) scoring 35 and in third place after count-back was Michael A Thompson(13) with 34.

Ladies' Section by Di Neal

The ladies played the Par Cup on Saturday and Tuesday.

This is a very odd game, and certainly not the favourite of most players.

The weather on Tuesday was pleasant and everyone enjoyed watching the ball run along dry fairways. The winner was Julie Oliver (-1) and the runner up Avril Brown (-3).

The first round of the County Humphries Bowl Competition against WAREHAM GC resulted in a home win for Bridport with Carole Brown, Julie Oliver and Nicky Stone winning all won their matches.

A friendly played against AXE CLIFF finished in draw.

Exasperating season ends on high note

AFTER a season Bridport Football Club will want to forget, both the first team and reserves completed their fixtures on Saturday.

The first team who have had goalkeeping problems in recent weeks, travelled to Brislington again without a regular keeper and Ryan Hayter once again deputising.

The Bees took the lead on 35 minutes when Warren Byerley pounced after Mark Salter's header had struck the upright. Byerley picked up the rebound and from the edge of the penalty area fired the ball into the top corner of the net.

Tom Richardson might have doubled the lead before the break from Chris Clarke's raking pass, but his shot was saved.

Bridport continued to create chances, but Brislington equalised in the 75th minute, taking advantage of a mistake in the Bees defence.

With seven minutes left Hayter was injured and had to leave the field which meant Mark Carter who has been in charge since Trevor Senior's departure was required to play out the last few minutes.

Meanwhile Bridport Reserves finished in style beating Parley Sports 5-1 at St Mary's. Two days earlier they had failed to avenge their heartbreaking defeat in the Dorset Senior Trophy by Merley Cobham Sports, when they went down to a penalty three minutes from time.

However on Saturday they went out in fine style as they trounced Parley with three 16-year-olds; Tom Bearwish, Jake Rowland and Tom Hyde; products of the youth team, all scoring together with experienced heads Tristan Gale and Simon Gale.

West Dorset Sea Angling Club

The weather on east pier West Bay was sunny with a chilly North-westerly three wind and the sea was flat calm and quite clear. Species caught on the day were; flounder, wrasse, shanny and rockling.

IF YOU fish the piers at West Bay you may have noticed new line bins (see photo attached of junior Kadie Lynham using the bin). These are for waste fishing line and hooks; the hooks will be disposed of properly and the line recycled.

Please do not put any other rubbish in them because if you do the line cannot be sent for recycling.

The volunteer who empties them has so far found general rubbish and dog waste bags in them this is not nice for him, so please, only hooks and line.

No looking back for Retallack

THERE were some exceptional scores in the May Medal, none more so than by Division One winner David Retallack, whose nett 67 included a blistering back nine nett 31.

In second place was Luke de Pasquale who needed comeback to beat Keith Gibson into 3rd place, but both scored so well to finish 2 under for the round.

Division Two winner Giles Leech scorched the back 9 with a nett 31, to finish with a nett 68, ahead of Tom Barclay, nett 70 and Mark Lewis, 71.

Rosemary Shepherd starred with a brilliant below par round of nett 70, mastering the tricky par 3s, in the Ladies May Medal, to comfortably win Division One from Jenny Scott, nett 73, and Judith Williams, 74.

Division 2 belonged to Mary Minter with a nett 73 with Rosemary Dare 75 in 2nd and Lizzie Linnett 3rd with 78.

Old rugby rivals set to lock horns

BOTH Weymouth & Portland and Dorchester rugby clubs will be renewing old acquaintances at senior xv level for the first time since the Seaside pulled out of the Southern Counties league mid season a few years ago writes Idris Martin.

Weymouth & Portland, who finished runners up in the Dorset & Wiltshire League Division Two behind champions Yeovil, had their promotion hopes confirmed at the south west region league administrators meeting on Sunday evening.

Meanwhile, Dorchester were relegated into The Dorset & Wiltshire League Division One from the Southern Counties League after ending their season rooted to the foot of the table.

The Seaside's head coach Paul Harding said: "Brilliant, its great news, there have been rumours circulating, but we kept quiet until it had been rubber stamped by the powers that be".

"As to where we are at the moment I would say that we will have to raise our game to compete in this division.

"We struggled against Yeovil this season and I would add that, despite being relegated, Dorchester are in front of us, so we will have to put in the hard yards in pre-season training and hit the ground running if we are to survive".

◆ DESERVED: The Weymouth & Portland RFC clubman of the year award was presented by club president Des Quick (left) to first XV captain Kevin Leatham
